TURN AGAIN, NSW!

BLACKTOWN CITY supremo Peter Thorne yesterday blasted the NSW Soccer Federation for downgrading the job specification for executive director's position.

"While the NSW Rugby League has prospered under John Quayle and the rugby Union has gone ahead under Ken Elphick, we learn through the press that we must have a person of lesser stature," he said.

"Just because someone who was slated to have the right qualities knocked the job back is no reason to drop the requirements."

Mr Thorne greeted the Board to secure an executive of high promotional ability, saying the game did not need someone who merely buried himself in worrying about minor matters.

He was deeply critical of both the NSL and the NSW Federation.

"Our club is disillusioned that things that are expected to happen have not occurred."

"The Sydney City matter was a disaster. We could have bought out their club twice over, but it wasn't in our interests."

"In NSW the Federation is not picking up its game and its sponsor must be expecting a much more dynamic approach to the competition," he added.

ABC-TV FA CUP

BY JOHN ECONOMOS

ABC-TV, despite rumours to the contrary, will be bringing the full telecast of England's 1987 FA Cup final direct from Wembley Stadium.

Mr Ian Freeman, the ABC's Sports Editor, said last night: "Our network will commence coverage of the English FA Cup matches from this Thursday."

The FA Cup quarter finals will be screened from 10.30pm Thursday on the well-known Soccer programme, "Road To Wembley".

Full coverage of the semifinals will also be screened by the ABC from the succeeding Thursday evenings, also at 10.30pm.

The 1987 FA Cup final will be screened live from Wembley on Saturday May 16 from 11.30pm.

At this stage, Peter Wilkins will be the presenter and efforts are being made to bring Liverpool's Craig Johnston home to Australia to co-host the event.

APIA'S STRIFE

GRAZIANI

APIA-Leichhardt chairman Joe Prestia is facing the problem of his sporting life following the withdrawal of Sydney City.

Italy's world-famous central striker Francesco Graziani is due to play the first of four guest games for the Maroons, starting with a match against the now-defunct Slickers on June 28.

Graziani, with two World Cup campaigns and 46 internationals for Italy under his belt, would just about be the star attraction of the decade.

But now APIA has no

BY KEVIN OLMOUR

game and will have to go cap in hand to the NSL to see if, in some way, they can be helped out with an alternative fixture.

Said Mr Prestia: "The whole situation is a jock joke."

"We are running the club this year on a $300,000 budget and trying to do the right thing for Soccer."

"The NSL and the ASF run by Sir Arthur George, should have at least an something better for Sydney City."

"We have been speaking to two promoters, working ideas for a huge day, and I believe Sports General was to have been the venue."

"A bye is ridiculous — we must do something."

The following week APIA plays Sydney Croatia away.

Mr Freeman hopes that Sydney Croatia would be prepared to reverse fixtures in a gesture that would be greatly appreciated.

Caruso's Views

Adelaide City's Charlie Caruso was yet another club chairman to express himself forcibly over the Sydney City debacle.

"The clubs must have a close look at the possibility of action in this matter," he said.

"Budgets have been worked out including the Sydney City game. Unless we do something we certainly lose one home game."

Other clubs pointed out that the criteria in giving 1987 League membership was based upon a fair degree of Sydney City's inclusion in the scheduled games.

Had they pulled out before the season — which all agree that they should have done despite the timing of their annual meeting — other clubs might have been included.

MARCONI, FREE SPENDERS?

TITTLE TATTLE to the effect that Marconi had blown out its budget to buy success was slammed by club chairman Tony Lebbuzzetta yesterday.

"We have done better than balanced our budget whilst gaining extra assets which include two National team strikers," he pointed out.

The income side is remarkable — if not absolutely brilliant. The Vardon tour netted $40,000, the function to secure Farina $20,000, Brown brought $32,000 and Tredennick $11,000. TOTAL $103,000.

Costs were Farina $32,000, Maxwell $25,000, Gomez $21,000, McCulloch $20,000, Perdomo $3000. TOTAL $101,000.

Judicious selling, a pre-season tour whilst others were asleep and the support of its old licensed club were all harnessed for top results.

BRAVO, MARCONI!

THE demise of Sydney City in its original form as sponsored by the Hakoah Club Ltd on Sydney's Bondi Beach, has a sad ring about it.

This club began with a handful of Jewish migrants in the immediate pre-World War II period.

It proceeded inevitably from the Eastern Suburbs SFA to the Metropolitan Soccer League and then the NSW SFA B Division and moved into the NSW Federation as Hakoah and Hakoah-Eastern Suburbs.

The club's exploits in the NSW State League and the NSL have been well documented and speak volumes for the quality of its play.

When migration was at its height and newly arrived fans were jammed into the middle of Sydney, the crowds were there to support the club with its high standard of largely imported players.

But it is a long time since anything resembling crowds supported the club, apart from when visitors bring the following.

Arguments that the club was formed as a soccer club have fallen on deaf ears and there will be a limited allocation of funds in future to cover an amateur presence.

Like its former great competitor Prague, it fell by the wayside under its present control because the attendances are not there to support it.

There seems little doubt that, had enough people been interested to follow the team, the Hakoah board would have felt justified in continuing with the semi-professional exercise.

But to put in $225,000 a year for what amounts to very few spectators, to face up to $300,000 and without question much more in the next few years is difficult to justify.

Yet, as previously observed, there will be more than a tinge of regret when they Hakoah Club closes its door on a semi-professional soccer presence.

There is no doubt that this foreseen change in club stance demonstrates that there are many more moves to take place in the not too distant future for soccer to take its desired place in the hierarchy of Australian sport.

—O—

THERE will be a deal of pleasure amongst soccer supporters with the Commonwealth Government's decision to drop plans to merge the Special Broadcasting Service and the Australian Broadcasting Commission for the time being.

There is no doubt that the Government has realised that to continue with the combining of the organisations could lead to an electoral backlash.

If ever there was a time when government and opposition will bend to their perceptions of public wishes it is now.

The service given by SBS-TV in particular with local and overseas football has been a huge advantage to the code.

The Government however has reserved its right to review the position in the future and claims to be concerned over the increasing of the standard of transmission for the network.

SBS has expanded from a very small base to give cover to most of the major cities in the Commonwealth.

There is however the difficulty that so much of the country is not covered and that in the cities the signal does not reach enough viewers.

In spite of considerable opposition to the merger it is obvious that the major soccer-loving communities would have some gains from a combined public broadcasting service.

In soccer the migrant groupings which are interested in the game are often of insufficient size to be duplicated in country cities and towns.

Clubs there are largely on a community basis, and lack of country cover by SBS leaves them out in the cold along with the other soccer-orientated people.

LIONS LAIR

BRISBANE. Lions are ready to step back into the National League — and have been quick to point out to the Australian Soccer Federation and the West End NSL their "moral and legal right" to do so if a vacancy occurs.

Last week, within an hour of hearing of the demise of Sydney City, Lions had letters heading south to the ASF and the NSL, announcing their readiness to step back into Australia's premier competition.

"Admittedly we have lost players from last year's side, but we also have some valuable financial resources to call upon to buy others should we be re-admitted," Lions president John Morris said.

Lions last year finished 15th in the series but which decided the 14 teams to play in this year's national competition. They have no doubts that should a vacancy occur now, or anytime in the future, they should be the one given first option.

Despite losing three key players from last year — Danny Wright (to South Melbourne), John Stewart and Steve Jackson (both Preston) — Lions have dominated Queensland soccer this season and are set to lose a game in two pre-season tournaments and in the League fixtures to do. The club has channelled all efforts towards winning the Queensland competition and gaining a place in the end-of-season play-off to gain NSL promotion.

Whether Lions gain an instant promotion, or have to wait their way back next season, one thing is for certain, the club's whole approach to competing in the League will be different.

The club has learned valuable lessons from the VFL entry of the Brisbane Roosters and the amazing success story of the Brisbane Bullets in the National Basketball League.

When Lions return to the NSL, it will be more as a Queensland entry rather than as a club identity. A name change could even be floated with the Bears-rejected "Northern Raiders" gaining popular support.

Matches are likely to be played at the central Perry Park, Queensland soccer headquarters, rather than at Lions' own stadium in the far western suburbs.

Lions may also seek to involve the Queensland Soccer Federation and many of its leading clubs to ensure the resources of the whole of Queensland are behind the team.

"A lot of things are only ideas at this stage. But if we are to return to the NSL, it won't be as we were in the last few years. We must be a successful operation on and off the field and we must be a team and an organisation which captures the imagination of every Queensland sporting fan and not just Lions supporters," Orendyke said.

SPARKLING $5 MILL. BRANDON PARK AVAILABLE TO WOLLONGONG WOLVES

A PAUL MURPHY SPECIAL

BRANDON PARK is one very good reason why Wollongong must get back in to the National Soccer League — the $5 million stadium being built five kilometres from the city centre is seen as the perfect home for Soccer.

Great use of the present, costing $2.5m, is to be completed shortly and the complex will be fully completed by 1990.

Soccer will be played there regularly before that date and it is envisaged the first game with kick-off as early as April next year.

It will be a one-off Secondary Centre as part of the Program of Nations.

The Brandon Park project has been clouded by controversy and it hasn't just involved the costing, which has been provided by Federal and State Governments as well as Wollongong City Council.

Illawarra Members say by league club were supposed to have the complex as their home ground but the State Government made it clear no one organisation would be taking it over.

The Wolves have since made a strong push to develop Wollongong Showground — present home ground of the Steelers and the Wollongong City Soccer Club.

The "Steelers" board have lost lengthy private talks, but, dis- tinctly aware, Illawarra team and Press has.

There will be parking for about 3000 cars with adjacent training grounds.

It Wollongong Showground seems to be retained as a long-term venue for rugby league. However Park would become the Soccer base in Illawarra.

CRAIG IS A HITMAN

NO, don't be fooled by the headline — Liverpool's and likely to be Australian international CRAIG JOHNSTON has not turned to the dark side of the game and become a ruthless killer. In fact the hitting he is doing is on the page—goal.

Johnston has just completed writing a song in honour of his club under the title of "Pride of Merseyside".

It is also a video showing "Craig" in his many exploits for Liverpool and some of his sedulous misdeeds. The dynamic midfielder is so stuffing home for the Anfield team despite being somewhat hampered by a back injury that will require surgery at some stage.

BY FRANK COLETTA

JOY OVER WEST END LEAGUE

WEST END's Warwick Duff, SBS presenter Les Murray, NSL's Stefan Gomez and chairman Sam Papaioyannis with SBS chief executive Ron Brown.

TERRY SMITH ONCE MORE?

KEVIN HAGAN has agreed to Australia with a style that reminds of ex-Hakoah star TERRY SMITH.

That's the big story for New Zealand international received from his contract at the new Auckland Stadium City — Eddie Thomson, who last played in his country only a couple of weeks ago and now in to compare the shopping experience with his former team.

"He is like Terry in so many ways. He is good and comfortable on the ball and he could well go on to push past the way 'Smith' used to in the early days," stated Thomson.

Hagan's debut for City was against Sydney City FC at the St George Stadium in what was played a pre-season game in the 2-2 draw.

On the strength of his performance against the likes of David Routledge and Tony Dukes, Hagan will have no trouble setting himself up with another club and already Wollongong City in the NSW State League has approached him along with St George in the NSL.

Gomez Pays Up

BY FRANK COLETTA

MARCONI's suspended central defender GERRY GOMEZ has suffered doubly for his misdemeanours in the WENSL's first round.

Gomez it will be remembered was sent off against Brunswick Juventus in Marconi's 1-1 defeat after two bookable offences and he not only has had to serve a one game suspension but was also hit with a heavy fine by coach Roberto Yari.

Yari was very disappointed but only with the shopping centre back but with the whole line-up.

Minus Ian Gray, as they were again against St George on Sunday, the Furfielders showed some of the form that had everyone crying about them in pre-season as being world-beaters.

His other top-scoring boys Frank Farina and Steve Maxwell have worked hard at getting a partnership going but it seems time requires up-front will be the only answer — there can be no miracle here.

A Former Great Wraps Franken

THE EYES of former Soccerroo goalkeeper RON CORRY shone when he spoke of Sydney Croatia's young custodian ANTHONY FRANKEN.

"In two years Franken will be without doubt the best in Australia. The Soccerroo shirt will be his."

"He is that good," he claimed.

High praise indeed, but not with out substantial support from others who have followed for the 23-year-old's inclusion in the Australian team, himself included.

Apart from Terry Greedy and Jeff O'Connell, there is no better than Franken.

This exciting prospect, with time on his hands, first came to prominence in the 1983 World Youth Championships in Mexico.

Prior to these funds, he was in fact only unknown to Chris Hughton, but when Hughton was injured Franken was given a chance to test his stuff in a warm-up match and he never looked back.

Lee Schienflug started him in every match and he was brilliant.

From there it was into the Canberra City side and his performance did much to help the team from the capital establish themselves in the top three National League.

But now times are different in the W-League and Anthony is playing in a Sydney Croatia team that was never less competitive before he arrived. Since then the team has gained another point to win, but already when the time takes.

Franken has no doubts about the differences from Canberra to Croatia. "It is just to be involved in a team that is so good. To win the way we have been is all the better."

And Corry continued: "He is the best young keeper around by a mile. He is consistently good when others have a good day and a better day."

ASW's own Mike Johnson also believes Franken has just a little way to go yet before he establishes himself as number one.

ANTHONY FRANKEN in action for Australia against Nottingham Forest.

"Franken is a good keeper no doubt. He is good on shots but still not so smart on crosses. However he punches too many crosses when he should catch them."

"I suppose that is why he is still waiting to be back up in the national team rather than being number one. He is young and time is on his side," says Johnson.

As the current Australia's goalkeeper, a similar threat but Franken is one out of the box, a bit threatening.

I remember one time he made for Canberra against APLA last year when Jim Hamilton was remarked inside the six yard box and latched onto a cross with a powerful header, sending it toward Franken pinned on his goal line. The keeper's reaction was consistently watching to be done backwards and seems to find the backing ball.

Time will tell whether this sort of time will see him finally grab the Australian shirt for keeps.

TONY IS WANTED!

ASTON VILLA boss BILLY McNEILL has issued a 'hands off' warning to clubs chasing his England Under-21 full-back TONY DORICO.

"The Australian Soccerroo has been prepared with offers but McNeill insists: 'Because we were prepared to change Tony to Chelsea's DAVID SPEDDY, people are now looking at it as a goal. This is not the case.'

"There are only a few players I would swap but he and they are not available."

Young Dorico will in fact be on his way back home to Australia once the end of the English First Division for a stint in June, with his old club Adelaide City.

The State League Story

DEMONS SHOOT CLEAR OF THE FIELD

BLACKTOWN City shot two points clear of the field thanks to a 3-1 victory over Wollongong City in the match of the round at Wollongong Showground.

The game was characterised by a succession of yellow cards which were handed out to players from both teams — five to Wollongong and four to Blacktown.

Those administered in the sending off by referee Roger Demaree of Wollongong striker Rade Stefanovski four minutes into injury time.

Blacktown dominated the first half and jumped to a 1-0 lead in the third minute when a pass from the left by Bruce Elliott was deflected into the net by Brett Thornthwaite following a defensive mix-up.

The visitors increased the margin in the 40th minute when Paul Kay burst through onto a pass by Elliott to beat the off-side trap, rounded keeper Warwick Young and guided the ball into the empty net.

The second half was a different story as Wollongong bombarded the Blacktown defence.

After squandering several golden opportunities, the goal finally came in the 55th minute when lock Marlenea converted a penalty after a handball in the box by a Blacktown defender.

Wollongong continued to press for the equaliser but paid the price for all-out attack when, in injury time, Adam Sandy ran onto a long defensive clearance and, unchallenged, speared the ball past the advancing keeper.

WOLLONGONG: Young, Stuart, Anderson, Huggins, Delinger (Daham Ali, Marlenea, Sandy, Grant, Kalivas (Chairman), Giv, Strank, Zammit).

BLACKTOWN: McPherson, Mann, Murray, Reynolds, Smith, M. Jaffee, Kay, Glen, Sherriff, Ains, Sandy, Thornthwaite, Lee, Mark Hall, Dwyer.

MANLY WARRINGAH 2 URUGUAY 1

Manly proved once again that raw guts and fighting spirit can compensate for a shortcoming of skill and finesse with a hard fought 2-1 win over inferior Uruguay at Cronulla Park.

The locals took the lead in the 20th minute through Geoff Barker who blasted a 12 score salvo through a sea of players following a corner on the right.

However, Manly's jubilation was short-lived and, only a minute later, Uruguay's John McKee planted the equaliser in the top left corner after superb build-up work in midfield by Agnes Giese.

Uruguay held the edge in the second half but was repelled by Manly's rock-like defence and, in the 85th minute had any victory hopes dashed when Rostyle Stuart and Ross Robertson combined to set up a goal from inside the six yards box by Mark Cinnamon.

KEEPER: Warwick Tingo (home run for Manly while McKee and Giese were Uruguay's outstanding performers).

GOAL: Tingo, Dennis Smith (Agnes), Williamson, Potts, Manly, Stuart, Robertson, Agnes, Barker (Chairman), Cinnamon, Longman.

URUGUAY: Mann, O'Donnell, Fornace, Woods, Burke, Kruke, Gustin, Day, Giese, Thompson, Mann, Gane, Mulla.

SUTHERLAND 1 CANTERBURY 1

Draw specialist, Sutherland, followed up its three successive scoreless draws with a 1-1 result against Canterbury-Marrichville in a fast and open clash at Seymour Shaw Park.

Sutherland hammered the Canterbury defence from the start and it came as little surprise in the eighth minute when Craig Hall streaked onto a long-range header by Tony Cohen before deftly steering the ball past keeper, Chris Hammett.

Canterbury refused to concede defeat and, after a series of threatening attacks, eventually equalised in the 75th minute when Andreanias Spiliadis netted a corner from the left.

SUTHERLAND: Spiliadis, A. Cohen, Graham, Barry, Roberts, Goss, L. Graham, R. Spiliadis, Goss, Goss (Chairman), Neil, Perrett.

of luck for the last minute 2-1 win over Newcastle at the Adamstown Sportsground.

Newcastle's tale of woe began before the kick-off when four of the chosen squad were injured to withdraw due to injury or illness.

The reconstructed Newcastle side received another setback in the 25th minute when Canberra's most dangerous player, Alan Price, found the net with a precise header from a left side cross.

Newcastle ignored the injury and threw everything at the Canberra defence, but consistently by Steve Brown.

Nigel Drysdale was a constant thorn in the side of the Canberra backline and was actually sent to court on two occasions.

He finally received some consolation for his efforts when he headed the ball in for his brother, Mark, to head past Brown and equalise for the equaliser just three minutes from full time.

Newcastle's greatest display came after some two minutes of extra time and 80 seconds before the final whistle when Ray Evans made no mistake with his header from a corner kick that sent the goal to Newcastle's day of liberation.

NEWCASTLE: Gane, Mulla, Robertson, Barry, Roberts, Goss, L. Graham, R. Spiliadis, Goss, Goss (Chairman), Neil, Perrett.

GOCE DIMOVSKI TO REPLACE ALEX DICK

PRESTON Macedonia has shelved plan to buy last year's Rothmans Gold Medal winner Alex Dick from Frankston Pines — at least for the time being.

BY GARY BLAKE

Dick had signed a contract with Preston after pre-season work and some practice games with the club and Macedonia pressed on with negotiations with Dick's State League team Frankston Pines.

But on the eve of the new season Frankston Pines withdrew its permission for Dick to train with Macedonia after the latter again refused to pay the $4,000 transfer fee established by the VSF tribunal last month.

Macedonia president John Brannan said his club was not prepared to pay $4,000 for a player from the State League.

Preston is now sure to announce its interest in striker Goce Dimovski from Vardar Skopje.

Sackings

Preston might still see the day it sacked both Gary Cole and Graham Hays.

In the light of their pathetic first up effort against Portmurray JUST, Preston must be crying out for a striker of proven quality.

The loss of Brian Lane to Juventus was serious enough and to virtually sack Hays and Cole leaves a gap up front that Preston will find hard to fill.

GARY COLE

Hendo

For all its stars new and old Marconi veteran Tury Henderson is still that club's best player according to 1987 first up opponents Brunswick Juventus.

Berger's Changes

Bernstorffing former South Melbourne and Preston star Dougie Brown has been officially transferred by his current club Heidelberg.

The club was apparently not satisfied with his season performance and will have to say sorry to the former NBL top scorer.

South Coast of Melbourne State League club Green Gully is likely to sign with Heidelberg any day now and is expected to be ranked into the struggling first team.

No Swap

Melbourne Croatia, stung by its first round defeat in Sydney, has had another bid to grab Preston's transferred Graham Hays rejected.

Croatia negotiated both a straight transfer and a swap deal that would have taken Andy Humble to Carver Reservoir.

Melbourne Croatia has had further bad news with midfielder Brian Campbell having suffered a shoulder injury in a motor car accident.

Consolation

Ian Wallace, the former million pound Nottingham Forest star, was one of Melbourne

Croatia's few good players in his new club's first game 6-1 thrashing at the hands of Sydney Croatia.

And despite the enormity of the first-up defeat Wallace had some words of consolation for Melbourne Croatia supporters.

"The lads were shell-shocked after the game, but they'll get over it," he said.

"There is no point in losing if you don't learn from what I've seen I don't think we'll have a problem with morale."

"They're a spirited bunch of lads and they'll recover quickly," Wallace said he has been impressed with what he has seen of Australian Soccer so far.

Mistake

Juventus coach Len McKendry rarely makes mistakes but in letting defender Eddie Campbell go to Footscray JUST recently he just might be seen to have made a poor decision.

With Fabio Incantante settling in nicely in the full-back position at Juventus, McKendry couldn't find a place for Campbell despite that player having been an almost ever-present in the previous two years at Juve.

In his first up game for the Blues Campbell was overhauled and his teaming with Tyrone James will give Footscray some much-needed backing for the long campaign ahead.

Deankovic

Former Melbourne Croatia skipper Drago Deankovic is set to return to Melbourne football but not with the club he served so well for nearly five years.

Deankovic has been wooed back from Yugoslavia by Croatia's long time rivals Footscray JUST and the Croatian nation's players.

As Melbourne Croatia crashed down the league last year Deankovic walked out on the club midway through his contract and since has apparently been training and playing with Yugoslav club Osijek.

Melbourne Croatia, backed by the VSF, believe Deankovic hasn't obtained a clearance to play anywhere but with Croatia and if he returns to Melbourne he will still be the property of that club.

"But we will entertain offers for him from other clubs if he does return," said a Melbourne Croatia spokesman.

Meanwhile Footscray JUST is going ahead with making travel arrangements for the player and believe they will only have to negotiate a clearance from Osijek.

HOW GREEN IS MY GULLY

WITH the season only five rounds old, The Victorian State League ladder is taking shape with Green Gully setting the pace.

This week Gully takes on the impressive Fawkner team whom we will witness an awesome battle between. Fawkner's strong defence led by Captain Fawcett and the star strudded forward line of Green Gully including the Sweeney-Zemunik combination.

Green Gully, though, should take both points as their defence is equal to Fawkner's and Fawkner's attack doesn't seem to measure up.

Maribyrnong is the surprise packet this season and should go on to beat Springvale, who were expected to be doing a lot better than they have produced so far.

The AEs, undefeated up to now, meet the tough Croydon outfit and look like losing their first match of the season as it is always difficult to beat Croydon on their turf.

Northeast City meets Box Hill, in what looks like a desperate match for both teams. Neither side has impressed to date and neither can afford to let the rest of the competition get too far ahead. Northlake plays well at home and this advantage may give the side both points.

Oakleigh meets fellow Greek backed side Western Suburbs at home and look more settled at this stage, to justify both points.

St Albans' strong start to 1987 should continue when it takes on Frankston Pines and Broadmeadow who play host to Caulfield will do well if they can save a point.

Thornhill seems to be doing something right as the side keeps picking up points and staying amongst the leaders. Even though the side hasn't just away many goals I feel the Italian backed team from Melbourne will be lucky enough to beat the Italian backed side from Morwell.

TASMANIA JUVENTUS-PIONEER WINS CASCADE CUP

JUVENTUS-Pioneer beat Olymple-WPL 1-0 to retain its Tasmanian Cascade Summer Cup title at Glenorchy's KGV stadium in midweek.

It was a bitter blow for Olymple, which has been training four nights a week and which even spent eight days at a training camp in Sydney, during which it played four games against top-class opposition.

Juventus had Damien Yead back in goal after its new goalkeeper from Aberdeen in Scotland, Neil Connell, had been injured in the semi-final against White Eagles.

Yead certainly justified coach Peter Irving's faith in him. He saved two shots from Xanthopoulos and Goddard and didn't put a foot wrong.

Olymple dominated the last 15 minutes of the first half but then fell for the sucker punch. Juventus launched a quick counter-attack and scored the decisive goal on the stroke of half-time.

Steve Kinnear took over from the left, John Broadhouse took over from the right, but the ball ran loose to Frank Gennaro, the competition's leading scorer, and he fired past the rarely diving Martin Borden.

Broadhouse had a wretched game. In the 62nd minute, Gennaro set him up with a golden chance from the right but the striker missed the ball completely with the goal at his mercy.

Juventus was lucky not to concede a penalty eight minutes from time. A defender appeared to handle the ball but the referee waved play on and Xanthopoulos's deflected shot struck the Juventus crossbar.

"I feel great and it's a good start to the season," said Juventus coach Peter Irving, who joined the club from NBL side Newcastle in January.

"I thought we played very well in the middle of the park and our defence was tremendous."

"The fellows at the foot did well, in, and we had three or four chances there in the second half."

"Damian Yead had a tremendous game to goal and you couldn't fault the left on tonight's performance."

Tasmania and North Queensland will replay their Rothmans League semifinal final after drawing 1-1.

David Smith, an ex-Melbourne coach, and the man who coached Juventus to last season's Cadbury League season, will be in the competition, as Tasmania has had in the 20th minute from Peter

WALLACE WARMS TO THE TASK

BY FRANK COLETTA

SUNDAY March 25 was a warm day indeed and for IAN WALLACE, making his debut for Melbourne Croatia against their Sydney counterparts, things were certainly hot for him out on the park.

Following his introduction into Australia's National Soccer League and after just three days in the country and one training session, Wallace was stamped in the Croatian Sports Centre dressing-room turning a knock on his left ankle, courtesy of his a man-of-the-match of the first 15 minutes — Ray Vlasov.

The ex-Wollongong central defender delivered his coach Vlasov's instructions to the latter and gave the former Scottish international little if any breathing room.

Despite making things difficult for Wallace, Vlasov was unable to stop the Melbourne striker showing some of his previous talent and many of his touches were quite exceptional.

His shots at goal were low and far between, something that doesn't surprise when his team was pegged 6-1, but he did manage to bring the best out of young Anthony Franklin with an impressive strike five metres from goal in the second half.

Said Wallace: "It was pretty warm out there but it didn't worry me that much. I thought I stood up quite well considering this was my first match in four months."

He words of praise for the powerful Vlasov were short and to the point. "He was good. But just the same we as a team didn't play well in our first outing and were beaten by a simply better team on the day."

He did not dwell on the poor start by his side. "We shall get better, we can't play any worse."

And so to their match against Brunswick Juventus played on Sunday...

ADELAIDE CITY centre back Neville Flounders retained his humor following a nasty cycling accident which left him with shocking abrasions, concussion and an injured shoulder.

Asked on a radio interview if he would be playing in the opening round he said "No".

Why? "For four reasons. My wife, my doctor, the coach and my body".

WOLLONGONG CITY has another five matches to be played on Saturday night at the Wollongong Showground, with main game 7.30pm kick-offs and early games at 5.45pm. They are April 18 v Canberra, May 2 v Newcastle, June 15 v Uruguay, August 18 v Malta and August 29 v Inter Monaro.

WHILE SA and Vic fans are delighted with the radio commercial programme drawing attention to the West End National League, they have one complaint.

Why are Sydney players the only ones named?

Well, you can't please everyone.

Neville Flounders

WOLLONGONG City have signed Zoran Hristovski from APIA, winning a battle with neighbours Wollongong Macedonia for his signature.

It is a major boost for Hristovski who left the Wolves with Alex Bundick for APIA at the end of the 1985 season.

Initially he made his return to his old club against Macedonia in a 1-1 draw but it wasn't a memorable game for him.

The strong midfielder took a hardy in his team's goal but seemed out of touch and was replaced near the end.

Coach John Fleming said he is sure Hristovski will be a big asset to the team as the season goes on.

"You can't expect a player to be brought in to a team at his first outing. Hristovski didn't even have the benefit of a trial match with us," Fleming said.

With an injury, Hristovski and the talents of Scott Dickson available now Fleming has a bit of depth to work with.

Dickson, who missed last season with a knee injury, has been coming along slowly in the reserve team and reports his difficulties from the injury.

THE clashes between Newcastle and Wollongong City in the NSW State Bank League will see the goals tally and the winner taking the Steel Club Cup, which was donated by BHP Steel for annual competitions. Two grades are involved in the results.

FRANK VALENTIC is steady at the stage of moving into the Melbourne Croatia midfield. A 17 year schoolboy who is facing his HSC year, he represented Victoria from under 13 to 16 junior grades.

ROBBIE SLATER is finding that the standard of service being provided from the back and the co-ordination from fellow Sydney Croatia forwards Mario Lamin and Graham Arnold is working wonders. "The setup here is so good that it is no wonder that players like Jimmy Patrick and Graham Arnold have reached the heights," he said.

GRANGE Thistle goalkeeper Ross Smith had an unenviable weekend recently, having to play in all four XXXX League games for his club. Sicknesses and an unexpected absence left the Queensland club with Smith as their only keeper. He played in the Thistle XXXX League and XXXX Reserves matches on Saturday night then fronted again the following morning to play in the Thistle XXXX Colts and XXXX Thirds teams.

MELBOURNE Croatia can thank long-term official Frank Bunn for the work he has done for the club over the past 25 years. Frank has moved out of the secretarial position but is acting as club delegate to the NSL.

MILAN LUKIC found that Sydney Olympic can provide a bumpy ride. He began the season and had an excellent record through the pre-season grind but was unimpressed after only one game and one loss. But if Lukic doesn't the club they wonder why did they secure him.

Only Manfred Schuster has ever tested the distance with the club. Franky the whole affair begs the question of the degree of mystery in the club's management.

MILAN LUKIC is caught in a pensive mood during his first and last NSL match as Sydney Olympic coach during the Roundtable 2-0 loss to the now defunct Sydney City.

EARLY success did not go to the head of Sydney Olympic coach Vedran Rado. The only Vedran was quick to point to the number of rounds still to go in the West End Soccer League.

FORMER NSW Central Coast youngster DEREK CAULLEY has been on target for Newcastle in the NSW State Bank Soccer League. Joining him on the scoresheet has been Craig Penfold. Peter Dewhurst has an exceptionally young team but he is pleased that the rebuilding is bearing some fruit.

READY for a coaching challenge is an enthusiastic WILLY WALLACE who is just back from a trip to Scotland in which he updated on latest trends in the game. He can be contacted on (02) 626 9731.

ANOTHER former player, Michael A. Wall, is now a coach. He is currently coaching the Sydney Olympic team. He is a former player of the Sydney Olympic team and has been a coach for many years. He is currently coaching the Sydney Olympic team.

ANDY Toland, a former SA State League player who went to Perth, is back in Adelaide and could end up with Adelaide City.

He moved to train with the NSL club and coach Zoran Matic agreed but he is not going to pay the $4000 being asked for the midfielder.

If we think Toland is good enough we will negotiate, he said.

Another player training with City is Dean Mijatovic from Brisbane City.

A midfielder or striker he was the SA club's guest at the opening round match against Heidelberg.

ALTHOUGH the NSL is the showpiece match between the two teams, the match between the two teams is not a simple one. The match is a complex one and the match is a complex one. The match is a complex one and the match is a complex one.

THE MATCH is a complex one and the match is a complex one. The match is a complex one and the match is a complex one. The match is a complex one and the match is a complex one.

BRISBANE Lions took just 68 seconds to register their first XXXX League goal this season but then found winning the league will be a much harder fight than they thought.

Although they won their opening fixture 3-1 against Mount Gravatt, the scoreline was not a true reflection of the game and the Hawks deserved at the very least a point.

Mount Gravatt recovered from the early setback to be on level terms at the break and early in the second half had every opportunity to go ahead. Only good keeping from Lions Rob Farrow and some wayward shooting prevented the Hawks from gaining an unexpected lead.

Indeed Mount Gravatt were all over a lethargic looking Lions team whose players may have been jaded from the preceding Queensland games.

Goals from Brett Drury and a late effort from Michael Mabbett saved the issue for Lions, but Mount Gravatt coach Eric Thompson was not disappointed.

We can be proud as we played to a plan and a very nearly came off. I think we proved today that Lions are far from unbeatable and we are certainly looking forward to the second round when we will get a crack at them at Olympic Park, Thompson said.

TROUBLED AROK IN CHASE FOR CITY STARS

FRANK AROK, St George Budapest's manager has a bag of headaches to cure before next Friday night when his team face the visiting Melbourne Croatia at the St George Stadium.

remer Brian Emery said that the Seoul draw is expected within 10 days.

With 2 teams entered it seems that each continent will have five games but we will have to wait and see, he added.

Those listed as competing are Morocco, United States, Chile Olympic team, Netherlands, Egypt, Kuwait, Thailand, Deportivo, Capang, Argentina, Eastern Europe (2), South Korea (2) as well as Australia.

With a little bit of luck, Arok will strike some opposition that he will relish in the run towards the 1988 Olympic Games.

Mr Emery added that South Korea is paying air fares and accommodation for a party of 22, which includes a referee.

The tournament winner collects a pool of $250,000, with $25,000 for the runner up.

BRINGING THE WORLD BACK HOME

BACK CHAT

with Frank Coletta

SUDDENLY we hear that Rugby League is calling for a system to prevent their current spots of demigods from the field.

Well some of the League people (including Australian coach Don Furner, suggests that a card system - as used in our own game - should be introduced.

don't think the League quite understands the principle of the card system used in Soccer. In their game they have what is known as the sin-bin and that is supposed to be used in the same way as a yellow card booking in Soccer. Introducing cards is not going to help them put it's Marking that they want to use one of our ideas.

Thanks for the compliment.

It may have interested the previous both as a member of a football against soccer's main rival - well not here is a request of such.

League has done well to promote the talents of Wayne Pearce, a player at the highest level in their game through his position as development officer. It is high time that they have heard the players in some other than Eddie Thomson and do the same with our most marketable product - Frank Fennel.

Wayne Thomson, Frank's old coach, good looks and is well spoken. The ideal image needed to relate to youngsters.

I could think of no better person to project than Frank Fennel, representative of the most exciting action in Australian Soccer.

He is a true Maradona with both an eye on the ball. With his vast talent set up Maradona would be sure not to get into trouble from through wounds in the area.

And to say all of this.

***

The 1987 season started in a haze of glory for Australian Soccer. There were new players, new teams and confidence for a successful season.

But with the ending of history, for a time has surely been struck at the very heart of the national competition.

The national team in the NSL history - destined to their supporters and soccer players - were that's headed their way the grass by the National Club and the feeling, League. Why they take the easy way out by backing in a bye?

What's the mistake that made us look forward to a truly bigger and better year?

Why not bring to the Brisbane Lions and make the supporters all the more excited?

The surprise would say 'where would the empty stadium or two go?' The Lions would have picked them up elsewhere. In their home grounds.

Really you don't need a team you want to see the action and then the money and replace them with a bye.

If that could not be done then why wasn't Harry Redknapp ($500,000 offer) made?

Did it represent actual money in the end?

Another club says that they were offered all the papers - with Cave exceptions for $500,000.

If this club makes a second bid I'm disappointed with them it's coming across the right way.

The disappointment is extended to the Brisbane Club also in their conduct of the matter. They were going to stop the support in City then why not do it before the season proper kicked off?

***

SEVENTEEN clubs in the NSL have an interesting subplot revealed from Redknapp's Olympic City - a juggling act - the early future.

He was at work in being the club of which he was secretary to the very early forward state transfer to Division 2 so a further club was needed to continue the club from 1982.

Redknapp was the obvious choice to balance from 10 clubs to 12.

A club at about secretary Charlie May's home brought broad-based agreement. Alan Redknapp was the star made forward of the day. Now only the full time has been run.

TIME AGAIN for the NSL picks of the week.

On Friday night at the St George Stadium the SAINTS took the re-entitled MELBOURNE CHRONICLE, who would have to go to their way against a team that is decidedly shaky but won't give up soon. I'm dipping the first guess for Frank Ardley's choice.

ROBERTSON (NSL) MELBOURNE CHRONICLE as the defender Reserve and the team should, as a result of the game.

As the defender, the team should, as a result of the game.

BRISBANE Lions have slammed the door shut on prospective buyers following the unexpected loss of their captain John Stewart to Preston last season.

There has been speculation for several weeks regarding Newcastle's possible move to Macquarie Field, the home ground of State First Division club, Lake Macquarie City, for the rest of this year.

But the doubts have been put to rest as the result of the Newcastle club's extended annual meeting.

A steering committee had been formed to investigate and report on the Lake Macquarie proposal. But at the recent meeting at which the matter was discussed, members of the steering committee said there were some aspects of the Lake Macquarie offer that needed clarification.

Newcastle club members subsequently decided to accept concessions being offered by the Adamstown Rosebud Soccer Club Co-operative, voting 21-4 in favour of remaining at Adamstown.

STEVE HOSZOWSKI STILL KEEN TO APPEAR FOR AN ACT CLUB

STEVE HOSZOWSKI plenty to offer in Canberra.

FORMER Inter Monaro Soccer goalkeeper and joint coach Steve Hoszowski is puzzled at the treatment he has received from the club during the summer.

He has been reading in the newspapers that I am some kind of bad boy for not getting in touch with Monaro, he said.

But I would have thought they could have let me know what was going on. All I had from them is a letter telling me when training was beginning.

They might have thought that was enough, but I believe there should have been some discussion of contracts and my status for the coming season.

Hoszowski, a choiceteacher, was out of town for part of the summer but arrived back on the Australia Day weekend and, contrary to rumours going the rounds, had no plans to move away from Canberra.

He is not too put out at missing the beginning of the season. I am enjoying the spare time and have taken on some extra commitments.

I would consider playing again although not necessarily with Monaro. The ACT competition might suit.

But at the moment I simply have no idea of my status, whether I am a retained player with Monaro or whether I am on the transfer list, he said.

JUNIOR SOCCER

KIDS' SOCCER — FUN GAME!

SERVICE FROM YOUR FRIENDLY REFEREE

SOCCER — STILL THE BEST GAME BY A MILE!

SOCCER is the big football code enjoyed by countless thousands of schoolboys, juniors, amateurs and semi-professionals right across Australia.

In NSW, Queensland and ACT in particular, the junior Soccer movement is a tremendous organisation, providing safe, exciting sport with a minimum of injuries.

Soccer was first to modify mini-game rules, giving the youngster modified rules at his own level. Rules are adjusted as the kiddie grows up.

On top of that, he progresses to a sport which is devoid of thuggery and horrifying back injuries.

Soccer football is manly. It is a controlled bodily contact game with laws that protect the player.

Our attention has been drawn to the current updating of the junior rugby league game to suit its own "safety" aspects.

But Sydney Sun rugby league writer and former schoolteacher Roy Masters has spilled the beans on the back page of the issue of March 25 (see headline cutting herewith). Parents will be well aware of what lies ahead for the rugby league youngster — a huge contrast with the robust safety factor for the world-wide sport of Soccer.

We quote famous Australian international of yesteryear, RED DATE about Soccer: "IT'S STILL THE BEST GAME AROUND BY A MILE!"

ADVICE TO NEW U7/8 COACHES

Robert Forrai writes...

On my recent visits to U7/U8 games, I was pleased to see that the enthusiasm among players, coaches and friends is not fading!

Unfortunately, I wrongly assign two defenders to guard the goal area during the whole game. I have seen this in many games. Fig. 1 & 2.

Goalkeepers, 11 — 12 years old.

Goalkeepers are assigned to give all the players the opportunity to get fully involved in the game. Since there is no "point" competition, winning is not the main object.

So why is the Fig. 1 formation incorrect?

1. We are giving a two-man advantage to the opposition, since more than 75% of the field, by last time, the three Linkfield forwards are in handed trying to take on five opposition, while the two defenders have hardly touched the ball.

2. Being away from "where the action is", the two defenders get totally bored, since they are mentally and physically disconnected from the game. They block the goal's view, put in each other's way, talk and fight with each other — just to keep themselves occupied and warm.

3. Because of the long space in the middle of the playing field, the opposition has plenty of time and room to control the ball, pass or shoot — our forwards are too far forward and our backs are too far back to touch them.

4. I realize that the attitude rule does not apply in U7/U8 matches, but what about when they enter U9? If they play as they have been taught, staying back close to the goal, they will keep the opposition inside all the time!

My advice is to assign one player only (attacking mostly) to act as a defender in support of the goalie. He should be no more than five metres behind the closest opposition, moving back and forth, left and right, as required. The other players should be encouraged to cover, back and help, when needed.

Use part of your training sessions for discussing goals, stop and show them the four basic fundamentals:

- when one of our players has the ball, the other team members should get away into empty space and demand a pass;
- when the opposition has the ball, only ONE of our players should tackle him, and ONE OTHER should back him up, in case the tackle is not successful;
- the player who is in possession of the ball should look up quickly, before deciding whether to dribble, pass or shoot — PROVIDED he has the time;
- the player assigned as defender should follow the game so much that five metres behind the last opposition player and be ready for quick action. The others, however, must help when needed.

I realise that teaching these fundamentals will not be easy but, in the long run, it will be worth it. REMEMBER, it does not matter if the opposition scores a goal — by involving ALL players, you have a chance to score more than they can!

The Wide World of Football

AUSTRALIAN SOCCER WEEKLY presents the best coverage of the world game in
FRANK COLETTA brings you the latest news and views along with the best bits from overseas.

CELTIC have made an enquiry about West Ham's Scottish international full-back RAY STEWART. But Hammers boss JOHN KILLICK has made it clear he isn't selling.

SCOTLAND will play their first 'B' international for 34 years when they take on the French at Pittodrie on Monday, April 29.

DRUG SHOCK!

Drug abuse is getting out of hand in South American football!

That is the shock accusation made by Paraguay's World Cup star Julio Cesar Romero.

The man the fans call 'Romario', playing for Brazilian club Fluminense, makes his claim at the same time as the Argentine PFA's circular to all their members, warning them of the dangers of all kinds of drugs, both sports-orientated and social.

But it's the fears expressed by 'Romario' that threaten to stir up a polemic's nest in Rio. Many Brazilian players take drugs before matches, he says. "This is a sad reality. I know what I am talking about."

Expect a massive investigation to follow.

The Football Association have acted very sensibly in refusing to allow Steve Arnold to stage his charity game in aid of typhine relief in England.

Belanov won't quit

European Footballer of the Year Igor Belanov insists he has no desire to leave Dynamo Kiev and seek a challenging league elsewhere in Europe.

Very few Soviet players have been allowed to leave their country for the West, but Belanov's team mate Oleg Blashin has been given permission to play in Hungary next season.

Belanov, a 26-year-old physical education graduate, has been approached by Bayern Munich plus a host of Italian and Dutch clubs, but he refuses to cash in on his new-found fame.

He says: "I've never really considered leaving Kiev and why should I? They are the strongest team in Europe. I certainly won't ever leave Kiev to try my luck elsewhere."

BIRMINGHAM want to sign a goalkeeper and a midfield player before next Thursday's transfer deadline. Top of JOHN BOND's wanted list is West Ham's GOFF PHELPS.

SUNDERLAND have turned down a move for Charlton's LARRY LAWRENCE to take British international Steve Archibald on loan.

KEN ISN'T TOO KEEN ON THE COLD TIMES

AUCKLAND's KENNY HARLOCK found it terribly hard to cope with the minus temperatures during his three month stay with Blackpool.

The temperature was diabolical and considerably below the forecast for the month when he arrived in the north.

But for Harlock that was the only low point of his stay at the third division club where he trained with the professional staff of the famous old academy.

Harlock will remember his trip of a lifetime for the rest he made to the famous academy of Arsenal with Blackpool's youth team.

"We toured the whole complex and I had a chat with Joe Pagan, who is head of youth high school there," said the young high school student.

Another highlight was the diversified training at Blackpool that stretched from Monday to Friday.

Harlock returned to his West Auckland club sharper and stronger.

Says his coach Keith Pickford: "Kenny's touch is better. I hope he doesn't lose it now that his training is less intense."

Blackpool is not keen on the youngster to keep in touch. He may well return to Blenheim Road during the 1987-88 season.

TARDELLI'S EXCLUSIVE TARGET

Italian midfield star Marco Tardelli wants to end his glorious playing career in the English First Division.

The 32-year-old former World Cup winner is nearing the end of his contract with Inter Milan, and says: "I need a new challenge and what better place to find it than in England - the world's toughest League."

Tardelli, through an associate, has already approached Chelsea and West Ham without success, but will not be deterred.

He adds: "I'll consider any realistic offer. My childhood heroes included Mick Channon, and I feel I could contribute some of my experience to the English midfield, which in recent years has perhaps lacked a little creativity and imagination."

Tardelli has had a brilliant career, during which he has won 81 Italian caps, and five Italian Championship medals, two Italian Cup medals, and a medal from each of the three European competitions, with Juventus.

SAVED - by the ball-boy

Brazil has a new star - a ball-boy who interrupted a Third Division match by rushing on to the pitch to kick a goalbound shot off the line of his favourite team.

After considerable confusion a drop ball was awarded from which no goal resulted and, in a subsequent television interview, the boy was asked why he did it.

"We were losing 3-0 and I couldn't bear the shame of a 4-0 thrashing," he explained.

Then the interviewer asked the boy why he didn't just pick up the ball.

"What... and give away a penalty?"

UPDATE

ARSENAL WINS ENGLISH LEAGUE CUP

Arsenal, inspired by two goals from Scottish striker Charlie Nicholas, won the English League Cup for the first time when they beat Liverpool 2-1 at Wembley - ending one of the most amazing sequences in world soccer.

A goal down to a typical Lee Rich strike after 15 minutes, the North London team fought back to win.

Nicholas was in great form and levelled after 20 minutes before watching the second score arrive from time.

It was the first time that son-in-law Rich, who joins Italy's Juventus at the end of the season, has scored for Liverpool and finished on the losing side.

Despite taking the lead and dominating the early stages of each half, league champions Liverpool never fully subdued Arsenal's spirit.

Only Arsenal's Paul Davis and Liverpool's Jon Mulvey, in patches, were able to temper the competitive tension in the game.

Scoring chances were at a premium on what seemed a perfect surface for open play.

Nicholas, however, was able to enjoy a rare chance of son-in-law Rich in the showdown between the two strikers, leaving Rich to twiddle away his last Wembley appearance for Liverpool with his head down.

It was the first defeat he had suffered in 145 scoring games for Liverpool - ending a sequence of 122 wins and 22 draws.

The Wembley goal, greeted by red flares in the stands, was superbly constructed and taken.

Rich began it in midfield and finished it after great work from Mulvey and Steve McMahon.

Nicholas compared Arsenal's equaliser after an amazing goalmouth scramble.

Arsenal went on to seal victory when Nicholas sent a cross with a first time shot which deflected off Steven Whitely.

Cousin

Tottenham goal king CLIVE ALLEN believes that one of the reasons for his incredible success this season has been the form of cousin PAUL ALLEN.

Says Clive: "Paul deserves more credit than he gets. Because he is so quick, he is getting past opponents and setting me up with excellent crosses."

"I wouldn't have scored so many times without him."

WHITESIDE IS A HARD MAN

MANCHESTER UNITED'S NORMAN WHITESIDE plays his football very hard but fairly.

His player since Nobby Stiles has arrived in youth squads at the Northern Ireland international.

In this 22-year-old, a seasoned player who was the best in his generation.

Whiteside is the type of player who goes in where it hurts and has never ducked a challenge.

He's fierce and aggressive, but fair. A player who can keep his temperament when he realizes what Whiteside's fiery style and determination will keep the defence going over just how far he is of aggression is.

Football will never prove who can back with everything they've got. It's a man's game and Norman Whiteside certainly plays it that way. Long may it stay that way.

One man that is under no delusions about Whiteside's capabilities is his United captain Bryan Robson.

"Norman is one of the best players who never fails to deliver the goods in his and derby games."

"He was our outstanding first in the 1985 Wembley win. 'Norman' has an ice-cold approach to the toughest matches and he has been our best player this season and he is the man United fans look to for something special."

Cooper gets tough

Aston Villa head man NEALE COOPER - 22 disciplinary points after seven First Division games - believes it's time his team mates started putting themselves about more.

"The whole team must be willing to give everything," says the former Aberdeen star. "We have to adopt the same attitude as Everton - they all look out for each other."

United chase Leeds ace

MANCHESTER United and Chelsea are both keeping tabs on Leeds' 22-year-old midfielder son JOHN SHERIDAN. Leeds, however, are in no rush to sell after receiving £240,000 from Everton for IAN SWIN.

Manager BILLY BRENNER rates Sheridan in the £250,000 class, and that's way beyond the sort of price most First Division clubs are thinking of.

Target McCall

BRADFORD midfielder star STUART MCCALL is wanted by Celtic.

The 22-year-old Yorkshireman, who once turned down England's Under-21s in order to play for Scotland, has emerged as DAVID HAY's number one target.

The Celtic boss is concerned by the lack of goals from his midfield quartet this season and wants McCall to supplement the strikes of MO JOHNSTON and BRIAN MCCLAIR.

NOW IT CAN BE TOLD...

£5,000 for Woodcock

TONY Woodcock went through hell before showing the form that made him one of England's top strikers. He was in such a state at Nottingham Forest that any club could have had him for a giveaway £5,000.

Geoffrey Taylor was one of the few managers who showed an interest and was all set to sign him... for Lincoln City.

Woodcock joined Forest from school in 1972 and made his debut within two years against Aston Villa.

But manager Allan Brown was sacked and Woodcock's career stalled with the arrival of new boss Brian Clough.

Geoffrey Taylor recalls: "Tony came to us as a goal."

"We played him in the first test against Bradford and he was outstanding."

The loan spell finished soon afterwards and he went back to Forest. But he went on another loan spell, this time to Doncaster.

Meanwhile Peter Taylor had joined Brian Clough from Brighton and when Lincoln made their bid they were told that there would be no outgoing transfers until Taylor had held a review of the playing staff.

Peter Taylor advised Clough to give Woodcock a prolonged run and the player responded by hammering 11 goals in 30 games as Forest surged to promotion.

After helping Forest win the League and European Cup, they joined Cologne for £250,000 and then moved to Arsenal for £300,000. But had progress for a player who was made up for goals for just £5,000.

THE JOY OF SCORING

Sorry Sammy

RANGERS have pulled out of a meeting with Liverpool for SAMMY LEE's testimonial GRAINE SOUNESS had agreed to send a team to Anfield on Tuesday, March 24 for his former team-mate now at QPR. Now, however, he wants his players to stay at home and concentrate on the battle for the Premier League Championship.
